To Whom It May Concern:

I want to express how satisfied we have been with the quality of video and outstanding service you have given our ministry. In our market there is ongoing need for good communication with community and volunteers. It is very important to broadcast our services and needs and you have helped us achieve that goal.

Your creativity and dedication has helped us develop increased communication and visibility with the community in regards to our services. You and your crew consistently make efforts to assist us in completing our projects on time, containing costs and reaching our goals within our area of influence.

We receive many compliments thanks to your creativity, initiative and commendable work.

Once more, our sincere appreciation to a work well done and we look forward to working with you in the future.

Sincerely,

Chuck Cutsinger
